Philip Cooke, a mariner of Bristol, Gloucestershire, England, was a son of Richard Cooke of the same place. The maiden name of his first wife Elizabeth has not been determined and the name of his second wife is unknown. Philip Cooke and his children were baptized at St. Augustine Church in Bristol. His marriages may have occurred elsewhere. William Cooke and Mary Blackborne were married at St. Augustine Church. Her parents have not been identified (Southside Virginia Families, John Bennett Boddie, Baltimore, 1966).
