John Scrogin (E14) was a son of Samuel Scrogin (D5) and Elizabeth “Betty” Collins who migrated to Bourbon County, Kentucky, from Sussex County, Delaware, in 1794.¹ Rachel Kendrick was a daughter of Benoni Kendrick and Mary Warner who moved from Culpeper County, Virginia, to Bourbon County before 1795.²

The birth date of John Scrogin (E14) was recorded in the family register of his father:³

Register of Samuel born 14th Jan 1749 died May 2nd 1830

On 07 June 1819 Samuel Scrogin (D5) testified that he moved to Kentucky from Delaware in 1794:⁴

“... in the year 1794 I removed from the State of Delaware to Kentucky ...”

John Scrogin (E14) and Rachel Kendrick were married in Bourbon County, Kentucky, on 02 February 1808.⁵

John Scrogin (E14) was identified as John, Jr. on the 1810 census for Bourbon County, apparently to differentiate between him and his uncle John Scrogin (D2) who was identified as John, Sr. in the enumeration. John (D2) had a son John (E4) who was 36 years old in 1810 and, as far as is known, the second child and first son of John (E4) was not born until 1811: (Federal Census Microfilm 252, Roll 5, pages 68-113.)

John Scrogin (E14) served six months in the War of 1812, from 20 May through 19 November 1813, as a private in Captain Richard Matson's Company of Infantry, Mounted Regiment of Kentucky Volunteers commanded by Colonel Richard M. Johnson. His pay for the period was $8 per month ($48), plus 40 cents a day allowance for his horse ($73.60), which totaled $121.60.⁶ During his tour of duty, John Scrogin's unit fought in the Battle of the Thames on 05 October 1813. The Thames River is in southern Ontario, Canada, where it empties into Lake St. Clair.⁷

Kentuckians were prominent among those who fought to protect their homes from the British and Indians in the War of 1812, including men of the Scrogin family and their relatives. Robert Scrogin (E10) was 1st Lieutenant, Thomas Bohannon (Buckhannon) was 1st Corporal and Joseph Scrogin was a corporal in Matson's Company with John Scrogin (E14). The place of Private Joseph Scrogin, who volunteered as a substitute for Pittman Williamson and was promoted to Corporal, in the family has not been identified. One John Scrogin and a Robert Scrogin served as privates in Captain Virgil McCracken's Company of Riflemen, 1st Rifle Regiment commanded by Lieutenant Colonel John Allen from 12 August through 14 October 1812. Abraham Bohannon (Buckhannon), Seth Cook and Abraham Kesler of Shelby County also were privates in McCracken's Company. Although this roster stops at 14 October 1812, McCracken's Company fought at the Battle of River Raisin on 12 January 1813 where McCracken was killed and Abraham Bohannon, uncle of Pamela Bohannon Scrogin, was captured and later, with many other prisoners, murdered by the Indians. Perhaps contacts with Bohannon, Cook and Kesler during military service influenced John Scrogin (E14) to move to Shelby County from Bourbon County.

Leven Polk Scrogin (E7) was 1st Corporal in Captain Maurice Langhorne's Company of the 1st Rifle Regiment, Kentucky Volunteer Militia, with drummers Thornton Wilson, who married Rachel Kendrick's sister Mariah Kendrick, and Cumberland Wilson from 15 August 1812 through 14 October 1812. Thornton and Cumberland Wilson probably were brothers since Thornton J. Wilson later named a son Cumberland H. Wilson. Cumberland Wilson was married to Mary Parker in Woodford County, Kentucky, by D. Robinson on 02 April 1818.

Private Johnston Scrogin, who was in Combs' Company, Francesco's Regiment, probably was Robert Johnson Scrogin (F14). Private Mitchell Kendrick, first cousin of Rachel Kendrick Scrogin, was in Thomas' Company, Boswell's 10th Regiment, from 29 March to 28 September 1813. He was captured after "Dudley's Defeat" at Maumee River and forced to run the gauntlet between two lines of Indians which resulted in permanent crippling injuries. John Scrogin and George Scrogin served as privates in Captain Josiah Buskirk's, 3rd Regiment, Kentucky Mounted Volunteer Militia under Colonel James Allen from 18 September to 30 October 1812 in the expedition to Vincennes. They were discharged at Busseron in Indian Territory, 180 miles from their home in Shelby County, Kentucky.⁸ John and George "Scrogin" probably were members of the Scoggin family that resided in Shelby County at that time.

In May 1813 Richard M. Johnson of Scott County, Kentucky, a member of Congress from Kentucky, was authorized to form a regiment of mounted Kentuckians to scout the Indian country from Fort Wayne to Lake Michigan, along the lake, then over to Illinois River and back to Ohio River near Louisville. Marching from Kentucky, the regiment made a rendezvous at Fort Winchester on 18 June 1813. During the reconnaissance Johnson's regiment passed the battleground at River Raisin and buried the bodies of all of the Americans that they could find which had lain unburied where they had fallen in the massacre of 22 January 1813. Subsequently, General William Henry Harrison, in preparing for an invasion of Canada, called upon Governor Shelby of Kentucky to supply men for his expedition. The Kentuckians assembled at Newport on 31 July 1813. Colonel Johnson was directed to remain at Fort Meigs with his regiment until the main expedition could sail from the Portage across Lake Erie to Canada. Then Johnson was to march to Detroit and into Canada to meet the army. The Portage was on the shore of Lake Erie where Port Clinton is now located. The troops embarked on 20 September and landed near Malden, on the Canadian shore of the lake, on 27 September. On 01 October Johnson's Regiment of Mounted Kentuckians entered Canada from Detroit and joined the expedition. The enemy, consisting of British regular soldiers, Canadian militiamen and Indians, elected to make their stand a few miles from Chatham within the steep banks where McGregor's Creek joins the Thames River. Reconnaissance by personnel from Johnson's Regiment on 05 October identified the deployment of the defensive forces on the north bank of the river. The position chosen by the British has been described as well-selected. On their left was the river with a high and precipitous bank and on their right was a marsh that ran almost parallel with the stream for about two miles. Between these, two or three hundred yards from the river, was a small, narrow swamp with a strip of solid ground between it and the larger marsh. It was so disposed as to easily flank Harrison's left. The space between the river and the great swamp was covered with beech, sugar maple and oak trees, with very little undergrowth. The British Regulars were formed in two lines between the small swamp and the river and their artillery was set up in the road near the bank of the stream. The Indians were posted between the two marshes where the undergrowth was thicker. Oshawahnah, a Chippewa chief, commanded their right wing and Chief Tecumseh of the Shawnee commanded the left. In the disposition of his army for the attack, General Harrison placed Johnson's Regiment in front. Since the British troops were drawn up in open order, General Harrison permitted Colonel Johnson, at his own request, to have one of his battalions charge them. This battalion, led by his brother, Lieutenant Colonel James Johnson, charged the British Regulars, broke the first line, scattering it in all directions, and continued against the second line, which it also penetrated. The Kentucky horsemen then turned and attacked the rear of the broken columns. Totally overwhelmed, the British surrendered as fast as they could throw down their arms. Within five minutes after the first shot was fired, most of the British troops were made prisoner. Having reviewed the rout from a distance, the British commander, General Proctor, fled the battle scene in his carriage.

Under the leadership of Richard Johnson, himself, the remaining battalion of his regiment moved against the Indians on the left almost simultaneously with the attack by the other battalion against the British. In order to reduce his casualties, Colonel Johnson called for twenty volunteers to attack the Indians with him and draw their fire so that the remainder of the unit could rush the enemy positions in relative safety while the Indians were reloading their weapons. One of the more moving aspects of this epic of heroism concerns William Whitley, one of the earliest pioneers into Kentucky, who volunteered to go with the decoys. Whitley, who was 63 years old and a former colonel of militia, could have had any command he desired in this expedition, even that of Major General. However he volunteered as a private soldier and retained that position by preference. There were only five survivors of the volunteers, later called "The Forlorn Hope." Led by Colonel Johnson and Whitley into withering gunfire, fifteen men were killed and four were wounded. Only one of them miraculously escaped unhurt. The old pioneer William Whitley was killed and Colonel Johnson was wounded.

Because of the thickness of the underbrush on this part of the battlefield, the mounted riflemen had to leave their horses and proceed on foot. The main body of the battalion charged into the Indians in the woods and brush, shouting the Kentucky battle cry, "Remember the Raisin!" The fierce hand-to-hand combat lasted for about eight minutes until the second wave under Donaldson moved in to support Johnson's troops. Under the fresh assault, the Indians soon gave up and fled in confusion.

Meanwhile, Major DeVall Payne and some sixty horsemen from Johnson's Regiment pursued General Proctor beyond Moravian Town. Proctor was so closely pursued that he abandoned his carriage in the road, mounted bare-back on one of his carriage horses and took through the woods. Twenty-four hours later he was sixty-five miles from the battleground. His carriage, sword and many valuable papers were captured. His government later censured him for abandoning his command. Major Payne's men, in their pursuit of Proctor, took prisoners and captured valuable spoils including three brass cannons that had been taken from the British by the Americans at Burgoyne's surrender at Saratoga in 1777 and later recaptured by the British at Hull's surrender. One of them is on display at the Kentucky Historical Society.

The losses in the action were not large, that of the Americans being about fifteen killed and thirty wounded. The British lost eighteen killed, twenty-six wounded and six hundred prisoners, including twenty-five officers. In their retreat from the field of battle, the Indians did an unusual thing for them and left some of their dead behind, so it is known that, at least, they lost thirty-three warriors. The great Indian leader Chief Tecumseh was among those killed but his body was removed by the Indians.

The victory at the Thames ended the campaign, broke the British and Indian alliance and established American control of Michigan Territory.

On 07 October 1813, two days after the battle, the Kentuckians began their return March home. John Scrogin (E14) was discharged from his regiment on 20 November 1813:⁹

This is to make it known to whom it may concern that John Scroggin a soldier in Captain Richard Matson's Company composing a part of the Regiment under my command has served his country the period of six months and this is the evidence that said John Scroggin is entitled to a tour of duty for the said period; and in testifying the honorable services of said John Scroggin in having acted the part of a brave soldier; the Commandant of said Regiment takes this last occasion to return to the Officers and Men his sincere thanks for their faithful services - for their ready acquiescence in his commands, and for the fortitude with which they submitted to privations and hardships, and to congratulate them on the termination of their services, which was as brilliant as the commencement was patriotic.

This tabulation is incorrect. John and Rachel had six children by 1820 but the count was two boys and four girls. Elizabeth should have been listed as over ten years. The third son probably should have been the fourth daughter. Samuel Scrogin appears in the age group of 10 and under in 1810 and 1820, probably because he was born just before the census was taken in 1810 and had not reached his tenth birthday when the census was enumerated in 1820.

By 1825, John Scrogin (E14) was living in Shelby County, Kentucky. In 1798 Samuel (D5) and Betty Scrogin sold 100 of the 200 acres that they owned on Townsend Run in Bourbon County to their son Robert Scrogin (E10) for five shillings.¹¹ In 1818 Samuel conveyed the remaining 100 acres to son George (E11) for $600.¹² Since Robert (E10) got 100 acres of his parents' land for 5 only shillings, he must have been the eldest surviving son with the right of primogeniture to his father's land. Joseph Scrogin (E9) must have died before Joseph Collins Scrogin (E13) was born in 1785, considering the re-use of the name Joseph. No records have been found pertaining to Joseph Scrogin (E9), Joseph Collins Scrogin (E13) or Samuel Scrogin, Jr. (E15) in Bourbon County, so they all probably died young.

Since John Scrogin (E14) did not share in the previous division of his parents' land, the family apparently decided in 1825 to make an arrangement giving John equity with his brothers. On 05 September 1825 Robert Scrogin of Bourbon County conveyed 102 acres and 17 poles in Bourbon County on the waters of Silas Run to John Scrogin of Shelby County for $642:¹³

The deed was acknowledged by Robert Scrogin in Bourbon County Court on 05 September 1825 and produced for record on 30 November 1825.

The likelihood that this deed was based on sibling parity is substantiated when in the following year John and Rachel Kendrick Scrogin sold this land for $2042, making a profit of $1400:¹⁴

John Scrogin (E14) was enumerated on the 1830 federal census in Shelby County, Kentucky, on the

1 M 20-30 (Samuel) 2 F 10-15 (Mary)

JOHN SCROGIN

Scrogin to be named Benoni for his maternal grandfather Benoni Kendrick.

Thornton Wilson resided in Bourbon County, Kentucky, when he bought this land on 15 December 1828 from William and Rhoda Miles of Weakley County, Tennessee, for 1500. It was described as containing 189 acres, 3 roods and 25 poles in Shelby County on Six Mile Creek and included Radcliffe's mill dam.¹⁸ Perhaps the purchase was funded by Benoni Kendrick, who lived with Thornton and Mariah Wilson in Bourbon County in 1820.¹⁹ Benoni Kendrick died before 01 November 1830 when Thornton J. Wilson was appointed to administer his estate with Robert Scrogin (E10) as his security.²⁰ Benoni Kendrick probably transferred all of his assets to Thornton Wilson before applying for a Revolutionary War pension in 1818 when he declared that he was in "reduced circumstances."²¹

Since no record has been found of John Scrogin (E14) having owned land in Shelby County, perhaps he lived on the Wilson tract there under some sort of a familial agreement with his brother-in-law against a background of a mutual legacy of their wives. Although there is no statement in the deed to that effect, the timing suggests that it is another conveyance made to equalize an estate distribution. Since he sold it to them for what it cost him, Thornton Wilson apparently had some obligation to his nephews and nieces.

Benjamin (F45) and Samuel (F90) Scrogin acquired their sisters' shares of this land for $780 by a deed dated 01 October 1845.²²

This Indenture made this first day of October in the year One thousand eight hundred and forty five between John More and Elizabeth Moore his wife daughter of John Scrogins, Abraham Miles and Irean Miles his wife daughter of John Scrogins, Peter Vardeman and Mary Vardeman his wife daughter of John Scrogins, and Joshua Tharp and Sallie Tharp his wife daughter of John Scrogins of the County of Shelby and State of Kentucky of the one part and Benjamin Scrogins and Samuel Scrogins of the County and State aforesaid of the other part witnesseth that the said John Moore and Elizabeth More his wife, Abraham Miles and Irean Miles his wife, Peter Vardeman and Mary Vardeman his wife and Joshua Tharp and Sallie Tharp his wife for ... seven hundred and eighty dollars in hand paid viz; to John Moore two hundred dollars, to Abraham Miles one hundred and ninety dollars, to Peter Vardeman one hundred and ninety dollars and to Joshua Tharp two hundred dollars ... hath ... sold ... unto ... There were no witnesses given. The boundaries were identical to those in the Wilson deed.

Unless it was intended to mean "heirs of Rachel Scrogins, widow of John Scrogins," the term "heirs of John Scrogins" must have been used in the sense of "children of John Scrogins" or "heirs-to-be" since John was alive at the time of writing. Shortly after their marriage in October, John Scrogin (E14) and his new wife Margaret went to Morgan County, Indiana, where he entered 40 acres on 20 December 1835.²³ Morgan County, Indiana, is directly southwest of Indianapolis and adjoins Marion County. The county seat is Martinsville. The county is traversed from the northeast to the southwest by the White River. On 20 December 1835 John entered 40 acres there which were the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of Section 32, Township 12, Range 2 East..²⁴ He acquired this land through a Federal patent.²⁵

On 08 January 1836 John Scrogin conveyed his Morgan County land to Ebenezer Henderson on a warrant deed for $50. The deed was acknowledged in court on the same day and recorded.²⁷ This must have been a mortgage because on 20 September 1838 Ebenezer Henderson and his wife Cynthia sold the tract to Margaret Scrogin for $50. They acknowledged this deed in court on the same day and it was recorded.²⁸

Ebenezer Henderson had a tract adjoining John Scrogin on the west in Morgan County. On 06 April 1833 he entered the 40 acres of the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of Section 32.²⁹ This contact and others with members of the Henderson family suggest that the maiden name of Margaret "Peggy" Baldwin Scrogin may have been Henderson. James C. Henderson, who was surety on the marriage bond for John Scrogin and Margaret Baldwin, may have been her father or brother. Jephtha Henderson, who was in Iowa with John and Peggy when John wrote home to Kentucky in 1850, had the land adjoining John Scrogin (E14) on the east in Morgan County. By a warrant deed dated 27 February 1847 he purchased for $275 the 40-acre northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of Section 32 from Robert H. Scrogin (F53), son of Joseph Scrogin (E21), who was a first cousin of John Scrogin (E14). The deed was acknowledged on 26 November 1847.³⁰

John Scrogin (E14) had two sons by Peggy (Henderson?) Baldwin who were born in Indiana before 1840. John B. Scrogin (F91) was born about 1836 and Francis Marion Scrogin (F92) was born about 1838. The 1840 census for Morgan County, Indiana, indicates that Peggy Baldwin had at least two daughters before she married John Scrogin.³¹

John Scrogging	1 M 50-60	1 F 40-50 (Peggy)
	2 M -10 (John B) (Francis M)	1 F 15-20 (Elizabeth) 1 F 5-10 (Julia Ann)

Elizabeth Baldwin and Jephtha Dulin (Dewling) obtained a marriage license on 17 October and were married on 18 October 1844 by Hiram T. Craig.³² Jephtha Dulin (Dewling) bought the 40-acre northwest quarter of the southeast quarter of Section 34, Township 12, Range 2 East from William Hess on 22 February 1848 for $135. The deed was recorded on 23 September 1848.³³ Jephtha Dulin (Duling) sold this tract to Benjamin Speake on 08 October 1848 for $150. The warrant deed was recorded on 17 July 1849.³⁴

Jephtha Dulin, who also was in Iowa with John and Peggy Scrogin in 1850, may have been a son of Moses Dulin and Elizabeth Bohannon who were married in Shelby County, Kentucky, on 24 April 1823.³⁵ Elizabeth was a daughter of John Bohannon, Jr. and Polly Sacra.³⁶

On 04 March 1849 John Scrogin (E14) and his wife Margaret Scrogin (Margrette Schroggan) sold the 40 acres in Morgan County on a warrant deed for $330 to Thomas F. and Sarah Huff. John signed the deed as John Scrogin and Margaret made an X mark where her name was written Margaret Schroggan. They acknowledged it in court on 24 March 1849.³⁷

Joseph Scrogin (E21) was enumerated in Morgan County in 1840:³⁸

Joseph Scrogin (E21), who was a son of Robert Caldwell Scrogin (D7) and Ann Culver, was married to Martha Campbell.³⁹ Joseph died in Morgan County, Indiana, on 25 May 1841 and his obituary was printed in a Kentucky newspaper on 06 July 1841:⁴⁰

Jos. Scrogin, 53, formerly of Franklin County, died in Morgan County, Iowa.

There is no Morgan County, Iowa; a prophetic error, perhaps, since nine years later his cousin John Scrogin (E14) moved from Morgan County, Indiana, to Clayton County, Iowa.

In 1850 John and Peggy Scrogin went to Iowa to claim a land grant for his service in the War of 1812. On 15 August 1850 John wrote from Iowa to his children in Shelby County, Kentucky, saying that they arrived in Iowa on 08 April and had rented a house and land about four miles from McGregor's Landing on the Mississippi opposite Prairie de Chien, Wisconsin, while waiting for his bounty land warrant. The letter remarks about Peggy wanting to go to Indiana; sends greetings to Uncle Bill Bohannon in Kentucky; and refers to John and Marion, Jephtha Henderson and his wife and mother, and Jephtha Dulin and his wife, as being with them. The writing and the signature are by the same hand:⁴¹

It was postmarked, Prairie Du Chien Aug 21.

Jane Catherine Scrogin (G65) practiced her penmanship by copying some of the script and writing her name in blank spaces on the paper. Jane was a daughter of Benjamin Scrogin (F45). Someone, probably Sciota Young Scroggins, wrote on the outside of the folded letter:

W. B. Scroggins's Great Grandfather

Another early settler of Clayton County, who arrived there in 1851, described the town of McGregor as then a hamlet of five or six small buildings. He said that the spring of 1851 was one of the wettest ever known. The prairie between Chicago and Elgin was half under water. The railroad track was newly laid, unballasted and indifferently graded, with ties laid on the prairie sod in some places. The fastest speed was ten miles per hour and frequently little faster than a man could walk. Traveling by rail was tedious, but traveling by stage was exhaustive and described by some as paying for the privilege of wading through mud on foot with a rail on the shoulder with which to pry up the coach when it was stuck.⁴²

The town of McGregor is in northeastern Iowa on Mississippi River opposite Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin, just north of where Wisconsin River enters the Mississippi. Located in Clayton County, McGregor is not far from Fort Atkinson, an outpost of the 1840's that has been restored; Effigy Mounds National Monument, where the Indian mounds are in the shapes of birds, snakes and mammals; Pikes Peak and Echo Valley State Scenic and Recreational Parks; and Spook Cave. Clayton County is drained by Turkey River which flows into the Mississippi about half-way between McGregor and Dubuque, Iowa, to the south. The wooded hills and river bluffs of northeastern Iowa break the level plains of the state which contains one-fourth of the highest grade tops oil in the United States. A series of highways and byways known as Great River Road follow the Iowa bank of the Mississippi from the Minnesota border south to Dubuque. It follows one of the most dramatic stretches of the river's entire length. Located near Marquette, Iowa, north of McGregor, Effigy Mounds National Monument is situated on soaring bluffs above the river. Just south of McGregor,

J. Oglesbee Recorder Clayton County Iowa.

Although the sale of land to a pair of 16- and 14-year-old boys seems highly unusual and hardly legal, John (E14) and Margaret Scrogin sold his bounty land, the south half of the southwest quarter of Section 4, Township 94, in Clayton County, Iowa, to their sons John B. Scrogin (F91) and Francis M. Scrogin (F92) on 08 May 1852 for $100.⁴⁶

This Indenture Witnesseth: That John Scrogin and Margaret Scrogin of the County of Clayton and the State of Iowa, in consideration of One Hundred Dollars to us paid by John B. Scrogin and Francis M. Scrogin of the County and State aforesaid, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, do hereby grant, bargain, sell and convey to the said John B. Scrogin and Francis M. Scrogin, their heirs and assigns forever, the following real estate in Clayton County and State of Iowa, and described as follows to wit: The South half of the South West quarter of Section Four in Town Ninety four, Range three west of the principal meridian, containing Eighty acres more or less, together with all the privileges and appurtenances to the same belonging.

To Have and To Hold the same to the said John B. Scrogin and Francis M. On the same day Margaret Scrogin bought the 80-acre north half of the southeast quarter of Section 5 in Township 94, Range 3 West, from Jeptha Henderson and his wife Matilda Henderson for $100. Both signed the deed before witnesses Lewis Sturm and V. R. Miller.⁴⁷ The north half of the southeast quarter of Section 5 and the north half of the southwest quarter of Section 4, Township 94, Range 3, Iowa, were located by Jeptha Henderson on 16 April 1850 with Bounty Land Warrant 44818 and the United States patent for them was issued to him on 10 July 1851.⁴⁸

The 1852 land transactions of John and Margaret Scrogin apparently reflect the plans made by the aging John for his wife and children in Iowa before making a trip back to Kentucky to visit his first family. Perhaps Peggy went with him as far as Indiana, according to her desires expressed in his letter, and by transferring title to their sons before they left, they avoided legal difficulties that might have arisen from their failure to return. John got back to Shelby County to see his children there. Christine Fry Merchant, of Bagdad, Kentucky, had a vague recollection in 1975 of a story she heard as a child about the day that "old man Scroggins came back to Kentucky, riding in alone on his horse."

John did not return to Iowa. On 18 May 1855 Margaret Scrogin of Clayton County, Iowa, applied for another bounty land grant as a widow, stating that her husband John Scrogin had died at Christiansburg, Kentucky, on 22 June 1855. Other documents in the file support the date of application, so the year of John's death must have been 1853 or 1854.⁴⁹

Margaret was allowed 80 acres on 07 November 1857. Her specific claim for land and her eventual disposition of it has not been determined but it may have been the north half of the southeast quarter of Section 5, Township 94, north of Range 3 west of the 5th prime meridian, in Clayton County. A deed by which she obtained this land has not been found in Clayton County but she sold it to Peter Fisher on 24 June 1861 for $800.⁵⁰

John Scrogin (E14) and his first wife Rachel Kendrick are presumed to be buried in the Scroggin graveyard on the farm owned by Less Johnson in 1973. It is situated about 2.5 miles north of Bagdad in Highway 395 and about 1/2 mile south of where the road crosses Six Mile Creek. Their sons Benjamin (F45) and Samuel (F90) Scrogin owned this land and had a mill near where the road crosses the creek. Samuel (F90) and his wife Malinda Miles are buried there with engraved stones marking their graves.⁵¹

The only other stone there is for Mahala, daughter of G. F. & Sarah Moore, who was born on 08 August 1858 and died on 03 May 1863. Their relationship to the Scrogin family is not known.

Benjamin Scrogin (F45) is buried in the cemetery at Indian Fork Baptist Church with his wife Pamela Bohannon Scrogin. His tombstone gives a birth date of 24 January 1811 which conflicts with Samuel's birth date of 14 June 1810. Since John Scrogin (E14) and Rachel Kendrick were married on 02 February 1808 and had a daughter Elizabeth first, about 1809, the birth date of Samuel may be accurate with Benjamin being born either 24 June 1811 or 24 January 1812.

This area of Shelby County, which is now served by the Bagdad Post Office and known as Bagdad, was previously served by a post office at Christiansburg and generally known as Christiansburg. The present community of Christiansburg is 10 miles northeast of Shelbyville, the county seat. Incorporated on 01 January 1824, Christiansburg had two churches, Baptist and Methodist, two physicians, two taverns, four stores and groceries, a steam sawmill, a woolen factory and four mechanics shops in 1873. In a story written about Shelby County that year, Bagdad, Jacksonville and Consolation were described as small places. All four are on the ridge dividing the watershed of the county. Land northeast of the ridge is drained by Benson Creek, Six Mile Creek and the Indian Fork of Six Mile into the Kentucky River. The Scrogin land was at the junction of Indian Fork and Six Mile creeks. Most of the county is drained into Salt River to the south by Clear, Beech, Brashears, Bullskin, Fox Run, Plum, Gist, Long Run and Floyd's Fork creeks.

Shelby County was the 12th county formed in the Commonwealth of Kentucky and the third established after Kentucky was admitted to the Union. Created in 1792 from Jefferson County, it was named for Isaac Shelby, the first, and then, governor of the state. The first station established by a white man in the area that is now Shelby County was built by Squire Boone in 1779. Situated on Clear Creek at the Painted Stone, the location of the station is now within the limits of the city of Shelbyville. For nearly two years, Boone's Station was the only one between Harrodsburg, and its surrounding small stations, and the large fort at the Falls of the Ohio, with its small satellite stations along Beargrass Creek. In September 1781, Boone's Station was abandoned temporarily after Indians began making frequent appearances in the neighborhood and there was an attack. Fleeing to the stronger settlements at Louisville, the little band of pioneers were attacked by a large group of Indians near Long Run Creek with a loss of 100 white persons, men, women and children killed or captured, including two daughters of John and Sarah Scoggin Hansborough who lived at Boone's Station at the time. Learning of the massacre, Colonel John Floyd and Captain John Holder led 37 men after the Indians but they were ambushed by 200 warriors who killed 16 of the pursuing Kentuckians. Only 9 or 10 Indians died in the engagement. Boone's Station was not re-occupied until about Christmas 1781. In 1783 when he was serving in the Virginia legislature, Squire Boone transferred his station to Colonel Lynch and it was thereafter known as Lynch's Station. Other early settlements in the Shelby County area were the station of Captain Robert Tyler on Tick Creek, Owen's Station built in 1782 by Brackett Owen, Colonel Aquila Whitaker's Station on Clear Creek and Captain Samuel Well's Station.

Squire Boone was the brother of Daniel Boone and of Sarah Boone who married John Wilcoxson. Jane Wilcoxson, granddaughter of John and Sarah Boone Wilcoxson, married William Bohannon and had Pamela Bohannon who married Benjamin Scrogin (F45).

Six miles east of Shelbyville there is an ancient Indian fortification situated on a hill some 200 feet above the surrounding terrain with a view for miles around. A double ring of earthworks from 4 to 8 feet high encircled several wooded acres watered by a spring. Graves and Indian relics have been found in the vicinity.

On 08 March 1856 John Scrogin (Scroggins) of Clayton County, Iowa, bought for $93.50 from William Joshua Barney and Georgianna F. Barney of Dubuque County, Iowa, the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of Section 4 in Township 94 North of Range 3 West of the 5th prime meridian.⁵² John Scrogin (Scroggins), who signed the deed with an X mark, sold the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of Section 4, Township 94, Range 3 west, in Clayton County, to F. Larned for $300 on 08 October 1856.⁵³ These deeds must pertain to John B. Scrogin (F91), although he used his middle initial on all subsequent court transactions. It is likely that the B. stood for Baldwin.

Margaret Scrogin was living with her son John in Mendon Township, Clayton County, Iowa, on 19 June 1860:⁵⁴

John B. Scroggins	23 M Farmer born	IN
R. A. Scroggins	21 F	MO
Mary Scroggins	1 F	IA
James Hamilton	21 M Laborer	NY
Margret Scroggins	56 F	KY

John B. Scroggins (F91) was shown with real estate valued at $400 and personal property worth $100. Margaret was credited with real estate valued at $800. Her birthplace of Kentucky and age of 56 do not coincide with the 1850 census which showed her as born in South Carolina and aged 49. Since she represented herself as 55 in 1855 when she applied for the bounty land, she probably was 59 or 60 in 1860.

Julia Ann Baldwin (Scrogin) married William Minney before 1860 and was tabulated with her husband. Francis Marion Scrogin (F92), who was not listed on the 1860 census as a head of household in Mendon Township, must have been living with another family. The records of Clayton County do not show a marriage for Julia Ann Baldwin (Scrogin), John B. Scrogin or Francis M. Scrogin.⁵⁵

On 24 February 1859 John B. Scrogin (F91), his wife Ruth Ann and Francis M. Scrogin (F92), all of Clayton County, sold to G. S. C. Scott and Henry C. Scott of the firm of Scott and Brother, for $300, the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of Section 4, Township 94, Range 3 west.⁵⁶

The fact that Frances Marion Scrogin (F92) did not have a wife to sign the deed, suggests that he was not married by 1859.

On 29 May 1863, by a deed of quit claim, John B. Scrogin of Clayton County conveyed to Margaret Scrogin of the same place, for $169, the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter of Section 4, Township 94, North of Range 3, west of the 5th prime meridian, in Clayton County. He signed with an X.⁵⁷

On 26 August 1865 Margaret Scrogin and John B. Scrogin (Scroggins) sold to Patrick Hynes, for $400, the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter of Section 4, Township 94, north of Range 3, west of the 5th prime meridian. The deed was acknowledged by Margaret and John B. Scrogin on the same date at McGregor in the office of Thomas Updegraff, a notary public.⁵⁸

The relationships of John Scrogin (E14), his second wife Margaret Baldwin and their children, Elizabeth Baldwin, who married Jephtha Dulin; Julia Ann Baldwin, who married William Minney; John B. Scrogin (F91); and Francis Marion "Dick" Scrogin (F92); are proved by depositions, which state that Ruth Ann Scrogin, the wife of John B. Scrogin, died before 29 August 1865 and that she had no issue. Elizabeth Baldwin Dulin died before 27 May 1858, when Jeptha Dulin was described as a widower. The record also states that Margaret Baldwin Scrogin "left here" after 24 July 1861, but it is not understood if it meant that she left Mendon Township, Clayton County or the state of Iowa. She was signing deeds in Clayton County in 1865.⁵⁹

William Minney bought the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of Section 5, Township 94, of Range 3 West in the Dubuque Land District from Francis and Lucy Daniels for $66.00 on 06 March 1854.⁶⁵

parents. William and Julia Ann probably were married about 1855, because they had sons aged 4 and 1 in 1860. They resided in the town of McGregor, Clayton County, Iowa, when the census was taken on 12 June 1860. Jephtha Dulin, or one of his relatives, lived with them:⁶⁶

William Minney	28 M Laborer	born NY
Julia Minney	26 F		KY
C H Minney	4 M		IA
G O Minney	1 M		IA
Thomas Stephenson	22 M Laborer		Canada
J J Doolin	30 M Laborer		KY

William Minney had personal property valued at $75.

William and Julia Ann Minney of McGregor Post Office, Mendon Township, Clayton County, Iowa, had three more sons before 29 July 1870:⁶⁷

William Minnie	40 M Laborer	born NY
Julia Ann Minnie	39 F Keeping House		KY
Charles Minnie	14 M		IA
George Minnie	11 M		IA
William Minnie	10 M		IA
John Minnie	7 M		IA
Homer Minnie	3 M		IA

The parents of William Minney, who had personal property worth $300, were of foreign birth. He and Julia Ann were tabulated as being unable to read or write.

Julia Ann Baldwin Minney apparently died before 07 June 1880, when William Minney of Mendon Township, Clayton County, Iowa, was described as a white, male laborer and widowed boarder, aged 52, who was born in New York to Canadian parents.⁶⁸

George O. Minney was born in Iowa in May 1859. A resident of McGregor City, Mendon Township, Clayton County, his father was shown as a native of Canada and his mother of New York on the census. He had been married for 12 years by 12 June 1900.⁶⁹

John Minney (Minnie), who was born in Iowa in July 1864, was recorded as a child of parents who were born in New York. John had been married for 7 years in 1900.⁷⁰

The census for District 2, Christiansburg Post Office, Shelby County, Kentucky, on 26 June 1860, reveals some of the children of John Moore and Elizabeth Scrogin (F70):⁷³

Jno. Moore Sr	58 M Farmer	born KY
Elizth. Moore	51 F	KY
Saml. Moore	16 M Laborer	KY
James Shuck	22 M Laborer	KY
Ednor Shuck	19 F	KY
Wm. Moore	8 M	KY
Saml. Smith	24 M School teacher	KY
Jno. Moore Jr	32 M Farmer	born KY
Susan Moore	28 F	KY
John Ezra Moore	8 M	KY
Margt. Moore	8 M	KY

Margt. Moore, aged 8, who was listed as a male, undoubtedly should have been tabulated as a female. Her age may be wrong, too, unless she and John Ezra were twins.

James B. Shuck, aged 25, born and residing in Shelby County, and Edney Ann Moore, daughter of John Moore, aged 18, born and residing in Shelby County, were married on 26 October 1859, with W. J. Stivers as bondsman.⁷⁴

There undoubtedly were some children born to Elizabeth Scrogin Moore between John Moore, Jr. about 1828 and Edna Ann Moore about 1841.

Elizabeth Scrogin Moore (F70) probably died after the 1860 census and before 18 June 1861 when John Moore appears to have married again. On that date John Moore of Shelby County; aged 59; 2nd marriage; farmer; born Henry County, Kentucky; parents born Virginia; married S. Frances Dowden of Shelby County; aged 21; 1st marriage; born Henry County; father Willis Dowden, who was bondsman, born Shelby County; mother born Woodford County.⁷⁵

Harvey Bohannon who married Cynthia Ann Scrogin (G97) was a son of Henry Bohannon and Philadelphia Gale and a nephew of William Bohannon whose daughter Pamela married Benjamin Scrogin (F45). Harvey Bohannon and Cynthia Ann Scrogin were wed by Abraham Cook on 31 May 1849 in Shelby County with the consent of his father Henry Bohannon and her father Samuel Scrogin (Scroggan). The bond was secured by Abraham Lewis.⁸⁴ Henry Bohannon was a farmer, surveyor, justice and sheriff of Shelby County, Kentucky. Abraham Miles, who married Irene Scrogin (F71), was a son of Samuel Miles, Jr., by his second wife Ann Lewis.⁹⁵ Abraham (Abram) and Irene (Irean) were married by William W. Ford in Shelby County, Kentucky, on 16 December 1828.⁹⁶

It has not been determined if the children tabulated with Abraham and Irene Scrogin Miles in District 1 of Shelby County, Kentucky, on 07 October 1850, were all of their issue:⁹⁷

A Miles	41 M Farmer born	KY Real estate value $5440 (Abraham)
I Miles	35 F	KY (Irene)
S Miles	21 M	KY
R Kesler	5/12 M	KY (Rachel, F 17)

J M Miles	2 M	KY (Joseph)
T Kesler	22 M	KY (Thomas)
P Kesler	5/12 M	KY

The entry for R. Kesler must have been confused with the one for P. Kesler. Surely R. Kesler was Rachel Ann Miles Kesler, aged 17; T. Kesler was her husband Thomas and P. Kesler was their baby. Rachel Ann Miles (G105), daughter of Abram, married Thomas D. Kesler on 25 October 1849 with

Robert Montgomery as bondsman.⁹⁸ Rachel Ann Miles was born on 11 August 1833 and died in February 1910. Kesler and Rachel Ann Miles (G105), married Myrtle Forrest Scrogins (H69), granddaughter of Benjamin Scrogin (F45) and Pamela Bohannon.¹⁰⁰

Daughter Belle, aged 16, was living with Abraham and Irene Miles on 29 June 1860 when they were enumerated in District 2 of Shelby County, Christiansburg Post Office:¹⁰¹

Belle was shown as age 18 in December 1860 when she got married. Abraham was credited with owning real estate worth $7444 and personal property valued at $2330.

Thomas D. Wilson, who married Belle Miles (G118), daughter of Abraham Miles and Irene Scrogin (F71), in 1860, was a son of Thornton J. Wilson and Mariah Kendrick. Wilson was described as of Boone County, aged 24, 1st marriage, farmer, born Boone County, father born Virginia, mother born Bourbon County, and Belle Miles was described as of Shelby County, age 18, 1st marriage, born Shelby County, father Abram Miles born Shelby County, mother born Bourbon County. Peter Vardeman who married Mary "Polly" Scrogin (F94) was a son of Thomas Vardeman and Mary "Polly" Wilcoxson who were married in Woodford County, Kentucky, on 29 October 1804. Thomas Vardeman was a son of Peter and Prudence Vardeman. Polly Wilcoxson Vardeman was a sister of Jane Wilcoxson who married William Bohannon and a daughter of Daniel Wilcoxson and Sally Faulconer who were married in Kentucky in October 1780.¹¹³

After the death of Thomas Vardeman, Polly Wilcoxson Vardeman married (2) Samuel Miles, Jr., son of Samuel Miles and Sarah James, on 03 April 1822 in Shelby County with Nathan Underwood as bondsman.¹¹⁴ She was the third wife of Samuel Miles, Jr. who married (1) Eunice Cook, daughter of William Cook and Margaret Jones, on 24 February 1798 in Franklin County, Kentucky,¹¹⁵ and (2) Ann Lewis, daughter of Joseph Lewis and Sarah Beck, on 07 April 1802 in Shelby County, Kentucky.¹¹⁶ Subsequently Polly Miles was guardian of the heirs of Thomas Vardeman; Peter, William and Mary Vardeman, and made guardian's reports on 16 November 1829 and 16 August 1830, the latter being witnessed by Henry Bohannon, Justice of the Peace for Shelby County.¹¹⁷

Bagdad Cemetery, Bagdad, Kentucky. Appraisals and sales reports pertaining to his estate, beginning 14 September 1877 and administered by his son Jeremiah P. Vardeman (G123), mention his widow Mary and an unnamed infant child.¹¹⁸ Peter Vardeman and Polly Scrogin (F94) reputedly had 13 children but the names of only 11 are known. The other two were a son born between 1830 and 1835, probably about 1832, who died before 1850, and an infant (minor) living in 1877 who was born after the 1860 census.

His widowed mother Mary "Polly" Wilcoxson Vardeman Miles apparently lived with Peter in 1840:¹¹⁹

Angeline Vardeman (G127), daughter of Peter Vardeman, married John S. Riddle on 13 February 1855 with Jeremiah Vardeman as bondsman.¹²²

Elizabeth F. Vardeman (G125) of Shelby County, daughter of Peter Vardeman, who was surety on the bond, married Benjamin Onan of Shelby County, on 07 July 1859.¹²³ Benjamin Onan was born on 01 January 1835, died on 19 April 1865 and is buried at Indian Fork Baptist Church. 1862, is also buried there.¹²⁴ Since Elizabeth Vardeman Onan is not buried with them, under that name, she probably married another man after Benjamin died.

Sarah Mildred "Sally" Searce, who married William Vardeman (G126) on 10 November 1864, with G. T. Searce as security on the bond, was the daughter of James Searce and Mildred Blades. She was described as of Shelby County, aged 21, 1st marriage, born in Shelby County, daughter of James Searce, born in Shelby County, mother born in Shelby County. William Vardeman (G126) was described as of Shelby County, aged 22, 1st marriage, farmer, born in Shelby County, father born in Shelby County, mother born in Kentucky.¹²⁵

Benjamin Vardeman (G127) and Anna Brown were married on 18 July 1867 with Arman Brown as bondsman.¹²⁶

One family record states that the wife of Quentin D. Vardeman (G132) was named Mary and that they were the parents of Charity F. Vardeman Rogers (H279), Clara C. Vardeman (H280), Winford Vardeman (H281), Mary E. Vardeman (H282) and Otho Vardeman (H283).

Q. D. Vardeman (Vardiman) owned two lots and L. Vardeman (Vardiman) owned one lot in the village of Consolation in Shelby County in 1882. T. J. Vardeman (Vardiman) lived east of Consolation and north of Stringtown in the hills along North Benson Creek.¹²⁷ Situated between Bagdad and Jacksonville, Consolation was on the Louisville, Cincinnati and Lexington Rail Road line. When the tracks were re-laid in a deep cut near Consolation, the community was bypassed and soon dwindled.

Although the marriage record of William Vardeman states that his father Peter was born in Shelby County, Kentucky, it is probable that he was a native of Woodford County. Thomas Vardeman, father of Peter Vardeman, was a resident of Woodford County in 1820:¹²⁸

	1 M -10 (William)	1 F -10 (Sallie)

William Vardeman, son of Thomas and Mary Wilcoxson Vardeman, was born in 1813 in Kentucky. The name of his first wife has not been determined. He married (2) Mrs. Letha Bohannon Christie, daughter of Henry Bohannon and Philadelphia Gale and widow of Jeffrey B. Christie, son of Henry Christie. Letha Bohannon Christie Vardeman married (3) Richard Day on 22 December 1898 in Shelby County.¹²⁹

Sallie Vardeman, daughter of Thomas Vardeman and Mary Wilcoxson, was born in 1818 and died on 24 March 1888. She married Stephen Martin who was born in 1814 and died on 27 February 1879. They were the parents of Mary Martin, Martha Martin who married (1) Alfred Facker (Fecker) and (2) T. J. Hill, Letha Martin, and William M. Martin, who was born on 09 July 1846 and died on 09 February 1924. William married (1) Nannie Magruder on 03 February 1876 and (2) Mildred Wade on 09 March 1887 in Franklin County, Kentucky. By his first wife, he had Ira Willie Martin and Chester David Martin. By his second wife Mildred Wade (1862-1944), daughter of Obediah Wade and Eusebia Cook, he had Hallie Neville Martin, who was born on 06 March 1889 and married Leonard Christopher Kesler (J104), son of Walter James Kesler (H138) and Myrtle

Forrest Scrogins (H69), on 27 February 1919.¹³⁰

Mary "Polly" Vardeman, daughter of Thomas Vardeman and Mary Wilcoxson, married Jackson Yunt (Yount) on 29 June 1837 in Shelby County.¹³¹ She apparently died before 21 September 1865 when Jackson J. Yount married (2) Elizabeth Hammond in Shelby County.¹³²

Thomas Vardeman, who married Mary Wilcoxson, was the son of Peter and Prudence Vardeman who moved to Shelby County before 22 July 1808 when Peter, the elder, made his will naming his wife Prudence, son Thomas, daughters Dorcas Greer, Naomi Marshall, Prudence Marshall and Molly Menefee, granddaughters Patty Menefee, Naomi Nash and Sally Lancaster, and sons-in-law George Marshall and Lewis Marshall.¹³³ Prudence Vardeman married Lewis Marshall in 1789 and Naomi Vardeman married George Marshall in 1796 in Bourbon County, Kentucky. The Baptist congregation that was established in 1787 at Cooper's Run in Bourbon County met at the "schoolhouse at Brother Vardiman's" in its early days. The parents of Rachel Kendrick, wife of John Scrogin (E14), belonged to Cooper's Run Baptist Church.¹³⁴

Peter Vardeman apparently came to Kentucky from Franklin County, Virginia, where his name appears in court records. Thomas Hale was appointed a captain of the Henry County, Virginia, militia in "the room of Peter Vardeman" in 1779.¹³⁵ Franklin County was formed from Henry County, Virginia, in 1786.

Lewis and George Marshall, who married Prudence and Naomi Vardeman, were sons of the Reverend William Marshall (1735-1809) and Mary Ann Pickett, daughter of William Pickett, who were married in 1766. William Marshall, a Baptist minister, and his wife came to Kentucky in 1779, settling first in Lincoln County and then in Henry County.¹³⁶

Joshua Tharp, who married Sarah Jane Scroggin (F72), was a son of John Tharp (born 09 December 1770; died 02 August 1853) and Rebecca Lee. Rebecca Lee Tharp was a daughter of Daniel and Mary Lee. ADDENDA

Peter Vardeman of Henry County, Virginia, must have been descended from John Vardeman, who emigrated from Sweden to America with his family, settled in South Carolina in the early 18th century and died there, according to descendants, at the extreme age of 125 years. He was a Lutheran in Sweden and joined the Episcopalian Church in South Carolina. His son John Vardeman, Jr., who was seven years old at the time the family emigrated, married Elizabeth Morgan, a native of Wales, and moved to Bedford County, Virginia, on the east slope of the Blue Ridge Mountains, not far from the Peaks of Otter. There he and his wife affiliated with the Baptist Church. They had twelve children, of which the four eldest sons were William, John, Amaziah and Morgan Vardeman. About 1767, John Vardeman, Jr. migrated with his young family to the settlements on New River, where his last child, son Jeremiah Vardeman, was born on 08 July 1775, in what is now Wythe County, Virginia, about twelve miles above Fort Chiswell. In 1777 he went further west to the Clinch River in southwestern Virginia. When Indian trouble arose, the family moved into the nearby fort of Shadrach White on the Maiden Spring Fork of the Clinch in what is now Russell County. Others there included the noted hunters and explorers, James, Henry and Richard Skaggs. In autumn, 1779, the Vardemans went to Kentucky and settled near Crab Orchard in what became Lincoln County. Son William, who was the first to settle in Kentucky, fought at Point Pleasant on 10 October 1774. Later he went to the Natchez country. Sons John (III) and Amaziah were in George Rogers Clark's campaign against the Shawnee in 1782. Sons Amaziah and Morgan served under Colonel William Whitley on scouting expeditions and in the campaign to Nick-o-jack (sic) in September 1794. Son Jeremiah also fought against the Indians. John Vardeman, Jr. moved to Missouri where he died about 1827 at the age of 109. (Photocopy of undated, anonymous typescript from Valerie Hurd, POB 1066, Sundance, WY 82729-1066.) William Whitley led a group of Kentuckians, who joined a force of Tennesseans at Nashville, against the southern Indians who had been harassing the settlements in Lincoln County. The expedition became known as the Nickajack campaign from the name of the major Indian town which was destroyed. (Collins' History of Kentucky.) If John Vardeman, Jr. was 109 when he died about 1827 and 7 when his family came to America, he must have been born about 1718 and emigrated about 1725. However, with his twelfth child being born in 1775, it could be estimated that he was married about 1750, which suggests that he may have been born later than 1718.

Much of the above Vardeman history came from Morgan Vardeman, son of John Vardeman and Elizabeth Morgan, during an interview with Lyman Draper [Data of Sharon Primeau primeau@pcok.com<, transcript, Microfilm I2 C, Daniel Boone Papers, Draper Manuscripts, Wisconsin State Library, Madison.]

Jeremiah Vardeman (youngest son of John and Elizabeth) was born in what is now Wythe County, then old Fincastle on the New River, about 12 miles above Ft. Clinwell (?) in the spring of 1775 (1775 crossed out). His father was John Vardeman who came to Kentucky to mark the road, in company with him (appears to this reader to be Drake (Dokes?), a brother and Boone and another illegible name in the spring of 74 (this crossed out and 75 inserted). He (John) died at his sons home in Missouri about 1827 (his son Jeremiah and others of the family lived in Mo. in 1827), aged about 109 years old, a native of Sweden and at 7 years old, his father and family emigrated to America and settled in South Carolina and there the old man (John Vardeman, Sr.) died at the advanced age of 125 years, a man of piety of the established church. There Vardeman (John, Jr.) married young Elizabeth Morgan, a native of Wales in South Carolina and soon after settled in Bedford Co., Va. and there united with the Baptists and ever after continued a religious profession. About the year 1767 moved to New River, in 1777 removed to Clinch and there fortified at Shadrach Whites, in the neighborhood of Maiden Spring fork of Clinch, there Skeggs, James and Henry and Richard, all noted hunters all fortified at this same time (with families) at Whites.

Jeremiah Vardeman died in Ralls County, Missouri, between 01 January 1842, when he made his will, and 06 June 1842, when it was proved in court: [E-mail data of Sharon Primeau <primeau@pcok.com> 06 May 1997.]

Lucy apparently was the second wife of Jeremiah Vardeman. Elizabeth James, born about 1780 and died in 1823 in Pulaski County, Kentucky, married Jeremiah Vardeman, a Baptist preacher in Pulaski County near the towns of Somerset and Shopville, who was born about 1775. Elizabeth had two brothers, Daniel Fields James and Joseph Martin James who also were Baptist ministers. Joseph Martin James had a son Joseph McAlister James who married one of his first cousins, Elizabeth Vardeman James. [E-mail query of Eric James <ericjames@re4sale.com 01 May 1997.

A Vardeman family reunion was held in Marshall, Missouri, on 27 August 1939 by the descendants of Thomas Vardeman (G124) and William Vardeman (G126), at which time Bonnie Vardeman Conaway, daughter of Thomas, prepared A Short Biographical Sketch of the Lives of Thomas and William Vardeman: (Photocopy of typescript from Valerie Hurd, POB 1066, Sundance, WY 82729-1066.)

It is meet that we, who gather here today, render this tribute of praise and remembrance to those who have gone before. We are the children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, nieces, and nephews of two brothers--Thomas and William Vardeman.

We meet today partly to honor Jeremiah Vardeman, fourth son of Thomas Vardeman, who with his wife has come from Portland, Oregon, to visit us--partly because some of us have passed our three score years and ten, and time may be short when we can meet with each other.

My father, Thomas Vardeman was born in Shelby County, Kentucky, October 2, 1838, and four years later on the same day of the same month my uncle William was born. They were children of a large family, reared in fear and admonition of the Lord. They became Baptists ministers as did also Abraham, a younger brother of theirs.

They grew to manhood in the State of Kentucky, and both saw service as Union soldiers in the Civil War. My father enlisted October 14, 1861--was discharged because of a bullet wound, December 31, 1864, and then rendered eleven additional months of hospital service. I do not know in what year of the war my uncle enlisted. He served more than a year.

They were married while comparatively young men. Uncle Will married Sallie Scarce (sic), who became dear Aunt Sallie and the mother of four girls. A few years later, December 8, 1866, father married Cornelia Fenwick Gaines, who became our precious mother. There they farmed, raising various grains, livestock, and tobacco; mostly tobacco.

Yielding to the general unrest and spirit of progress, Uncle Will moved his family to Indiana about the year 1876. He farmed there for a while, and in the year 1878 came to Missouri, bought a small farm on the Marshall-Miami road and sent for his wife and four girls the same fall. They came on the river by boat to Miami where Uncle Will met them in a farm wagon. They stayed over night at a crude hotel in Miami experiencing great discomfort, and the next day proceeded on their journey by wagon to their new home.

About four years later on the fourteenth day of March, 1882, my father with my mother, six brothers and one sister, his family at that time, arrived in Marshall. Uncle Will met them in a farm wagon, drawn by four mules, and they drove out on what is now North Odell Avenue over a stumpy road through muddy Salt Fork bottoms where they stuck once, to be helped out by Messrs. Bob and Henry Irvine--on to my uncle's farm, north and west of Marshall. He had made a change of homes since coming to Missouri.

They found my aunt and cousins waiting for them in semi-darkness; their only light, a lantern and tallow candles. They had broken their lamp flues that morning in the excitement of getting ready for their Uncle Tom, Aunt Nellie, and the children.

My uncle and father were almost pioneers. The Indians were gone when they came to Missouri, but flocks of wild turkeys were in the woods--and there were plenty of weeds--hazel brush and uncleared land. Hazel nuts, hickory nuts, and acorns were plentiful; also wild grapes, wild plums, blackberries, strawberries, and all kinds of wild game.

With the exception of one year my father and family lived on various farms north of Marshall until the year 1908. We had increased to eleven children of which I was the first "Puke." We younger members were all girls, so that we were then as we are today, six brothers and five sisters.

In that year 1908, my father bought a small farm near Nelson, Missouri, and moved my mother and unmarried children. He made his home there until the fall of 1919, when he sold the farm and bought property in Marshall, continuing to live there the remainder of his life.

Uncle Will lived north of Marshall until the year 1920, when he too made Marshall his home, living there until his death.

The two brothers and their families were, for many years, the only relatives in Missouri, and they were always friendly and had great regard for each other. One cousin says, "There was no greater pleasure in our childhood than going to see the cousins and having them come to visit us."

I feel sure all eleven of us can reiterate that statement. Going to Uncle Will's when a child, eating Aunt Nellie's salt rising bread, yellow butter, and jam, watching her rock serenely and receiving notice from the cousins was my realization of earthly heaven. My father and my uncle lived to see many marvels of science. They saw the laying of almost the first, perhaps the first railroad in Kentucky and an early one here.

One of the cousins remarked that the roar of the early trains filled her childish heart with more terror than thoughts of the Devil. Electric lighting, the auto, the airplanes were in use before their deaths. The radio with ear phones was just coming in at the time of their passing. None of these things moved their faith in God--rather heightened their faith in him. Did not God make men in his own image?

My father did itinerant missionary work, but held no regular pastorate in Missouri. A cousin says, "The brothers loved the Bible. Their eyes shone with joy as they discussed the great truths it contains, and in passing they pillowed their heads on its promises."

Uncle Will was a great worker for the Lord, serving four rural churches of Saline County for years. Two of them, Salem and Pin Oak, were organized through his efforts, and the influence of his life and work will live forever. It was my privilege to attend a service at one of his churches a few years ago, and I could seem to feel his spirit present.

My father died in the fall of 1923, at the age of 85 and was laid to rest beside my mother who preceded him two years.

Uncle Will died two years later, October 1925, at the age of 83 years. Pointing upward his last words were "Mommie" (his name for my aunt), "Heaven."

Aunt Sallie lived until October 1928 when she, too, passed on and was laid beside my uncle in Ridge Park. The brothers and their wives lie close together in death.

Of my father's immediate family all eleven children are living. Of my uncle's immediate family three daughters yet live, one widowed and two unmarried. His oldest daughter Mrs. Henry Harvey died last fall. She left a fine family of six children.

Among the brothers' numerous descendants are to be found; a doctor, a preacher, a school teacher, a policeman, and many worthy followers of various occupations.

Yes, their work on earth is over,
Only we who yet remain,
Hold the banner they have left us,
May we keep it free from stain.

Side by side in Ridge Park lying
Side by side and head to head
We can hear our Savior saying,
"Only sleeping, they're not dead."

When, on Resurrection morning
They, the trumpet call obey,
There will be a glad reunion
Through God's one unending day.

Although the 1850 census enumeration of Peter and Mary Scrogin Vardeman lists son Thomas as T. F. Vardeman, his obituary in the Democrat-News of Marshall, Missouri, gives his name as the Reverend John Thomas Vardeman, the Ridge Park Cemetery records give his name as John T. Vardeman and the 1900 census for Saline County, Missouri, lists him as John Vardeman. (Data of Valerie Hurd.)

Although one family record shows that the wife of Quentin D. Vardeman (G132), was named Mary and that they had a daughter named Charity F. Rogers, the tombstones of Bagdad Cemetery indicate that Q. D. was married to Charity: (Bagdad Cemetery, Shelby County, Kentucky, Ramona S. Slattery, Cemetery Projects Chairman, The Kentucky Genealogical Society, Frankfort, 1996.)

Section "D" - Division I

Vardiman, Peter	Aug. 1, 1810	Aug. 30, 1877
Vardiman, Mary W.	Oct. 29, 1815	Aug. 10, 1879

Vardeman, Elizabeth M.	1884	1920
Vardeman, Winfred	1880	1955

The last two markers must pertain to unmarried daughters of Q. D. and Charity, who have otherwise been identified as Winford Vardeman (H281) and Mary E. Vardeman (H282). Elizabeth Vardeman died on 28 February 1920 in Jefferson County, Kentucky, where she resided (Volume 021, Certificate 10034, Death Volume 20, Kentucky Vital Records Index Internet web page.) Winfred Vardeman died on 30 January 1955 in Shelby County. (Volume 007, Certificate 03067, Death Volume 55, Kentucky Vital Records Index Internet web page.)

Charity F. Rogers (Rodgers) died on 03 April 1916 in Shelby County. (Volume 19, Certificate 09022, Death Volume 16, Kentucky Vital Records Index Internet web page.)

This indicates that Charity was married for a second time after Q. D. died.

The middle name of Mary W. Scrogin Vardeman may have been Wilcoxson.
