The parents of John Woodrum, who wrote his will in 1760, are not proven but chronology suggests that he was the second of that name in Virginia. On 02 August 1697, "John Woodrum servant to Phill Childers Senr. being brought before this worshipful Court (by his sd Master) is adjudged to be fourteen years old.” [Henrico County, Virginia, Court Deeds, Wills, Settlements etc. Book 3, page 149.] Underaged English servants, imported to the Colony without a contract, were brought before the local county court by their masters. The court then determined his age and approved a term of servitude. [The Statues at Large, William Waller Hening, 1823, pages 113, 169, and 242.] In this particular case, fourteen year old John Woodrum was an indentured servant for a period of seven years. In 1704, John Woodrum became 21 and a “freedman.” Captain William Randolph acquired the credit for bringing John Woodrum to Virginia. On 20 August 1697, Randolph petitioned the Henrico Court to certify that he was due “550 acres for the importacon of eleven persons into the Colony, to wit: Edward Newcome Mary Newcome, Hannah Stacy, Charles Pistor, Christian Pistor, Robert _____, Edward Coyle, Jno Dyer, Jno. Woodrum, Elizabeth Gaffir and Margaret Mayor” [Henrico County, Virginia, Deeds, Wills, Settlements, etc, Book 3, pages 163 and 164.] Under the old Virginia “headright” law, people were awarded 50 acres of land for each person they brought to the colony. It has been estimated that over seventy percent of the Virginia colonists were once indentured servants. [E-mail data, John Dumont and Kellis and Virginia Gillespie, <Vgillespie@aol.com>, 15 Sep 1998.]

JOHN WOODRUM

“Importacon” was the old spelling for “importation.” The date of the headright did not imply the actual arrival date of the immigrant nor that the claimant originally sponsored the voyage of the person. Headrights were frequently sold or traded.

Aged 14 in 1797, John Woodrum, the immigrant, was born about 1783 and would have completed his 7-year term of indenture in 1704. It is likely that he got married before this time and was the father of John Woodrum who wrote his will in 1760. Since all of the children and heirs of John Woodrum, the willmaker, married in the period 1752-1765, it is improbable that they were born before 1730, or that they were the only surviving issue of a man who was born in 1783 and reached marriagable age in 1701. It would be extremely unusual for a man of that period to begin a family at age 47, when early marriages and large families were customary. In the opinion of this compiler, John Woodrum, the willmaker, was a son of John Woodrum, the immigrant.

The maiden name of Mary, wife of John Woodrum, the willmaker, has not been determined but, since her daughter Alice Woodrum Wade used the names Castleton, Royal, Anderson and Bradley for sons, one of those names may have been Mary’s maiden name.

John and Mary Woodrum probably were married about 1735, at least before 1740, since their son William was old enough to be wed by 1755. From their marriage dates, it appears that their children were born between 1735 and 1750. The known issue of John and Mary Woodrum are identified in his will. [Goochland County, Virginia, Will Book 8, page 125.]

The marriages of Mary, John, Jr., Alice, Sarah and David Woodrum were performed by the Reverend William Douglas in Goochland County, Virginia: [The Douglas Register, William Douglas, edited by William Macfarlane Jones, J. W. Ferguson and Sons, Richmond, VA, 1928.]

JOHN WOODRUM

William Woodrum and Martha Moore were married before 04 March 1756 when their son John was born. He was baptized by the Reverend Douglas on 24 October 1756.

The Reverend William Douglas came to St. James Northam Parish, Goochland County, on 12 October 1750. On 15 September 1753 he began keeping a record, which he stated was the first record kept for the parish, of marriages that he performed. He obtained a ledger in 1756 that became a permanent register for the parish and was maintained by him until his death in 1798. In 1756 he inserted many of the prior marriages that he had conducted and, at the request of some of the parents of the congregation, he also added some birth records going back to 1705. The church for St. James Parish was Dover Church which was the first church in Goochland County. It was authorized to be constructed on 11 February 1720 at a cost of 54,990 pounds of tobacco. It was to be 50 feet long and 24 feet wide. [The Douglas Register, William Douglas, edited by William Macfarlane Jones, J. W. Ferguson and Sons, Richmond, VA, 1928.]

Dover Church is on Route 621 about three-quarters of a mile north of the village of Manakin at the intersection of 621 and Route 6 from Richmond to the town of Goochland. Manakin is about thirteen miles from Richmond and twelve miles from Goochland. There is a St. James Church on Route 649 about one-half mile south of Route 6 and two miles east of Manakin. [State of Virginia General Highway maps.]

John Woodrum must have been born about 1700 because he was old enough on 18 March 1725 to obtain a patent for 400 acres of land in Henrico County, Virginia, for the payment of 40 shillings. The tract was on the north side of the James River, adjoining lands of John Gun, John Woodall, Nowell Burton, Benjamin Woodson and Joseph Woodson. [Cavaliers and Pioneers, Volume III, 1695-1732, Nell Marion Nugent, Virginia State Library, Richmond, 1979.] Goochland County was formed from Henrico County in 1728. His land also bounded that of John Burk. On 05 August 1728 John Burk of St. James Parish, Goochland County, sold to James Howard of the same place, for 200 pounds of tobacco and a cow and a calf, 100 acres on a branch of Genito (Jeneto) Creek and the north side of James River in the same parish that was bounded by lands of John Woodall, John Woodrum (Widdram) and Robert Woodson. [Goochland County, Virginia, Wills & Deeds, 1728-1736, Benjamin B. Weisiger III, Richmond, VA, 1983.] A map of early land patents indicates that this land was located about 15 miles east of Richmond, Virginia. [Goochland County, Virginia, Historical Society map per Virginia Gillespie, e-mail data, <SandraG627@aol.com>.]

Since marriages at this time usually occurred between members of families that lived in near proximity, perhaps Mary Woodrum was a daughter or sister of one of these early neighbors.

The neighboring names of Woodrum, Woodson and Woodall probably resulted in some confused usage in public records, as in the case of Mary Woodrum who was shown as Mary Woodson in her marriage record.

John Woodrum (Woodram) served as a carpenter and caulker on His Majesty's ship Strafford on patrol against French pirates in the Norfolk Bay area from January to December 1742. [Colonial Soldiers of the South 1732-1774, Murtie June Clark, no publication data, from records of John Dumont, PO Box 511, Peterstown, WV, 24963, per <SandraG627@aol.com>.] He also served as a soldier in the 2nd Virginia Regiment in the French and Indian War, some time during Joseph Watkins, a Quaker affirms that he is entitled to 50 acres of land as assignee of John Widdram who served as a soldier in the French and Indian War in the 2nd Virginia Reg., also produces certificate of said Widdram's service ...

Since John Woodrum was born about 1700, he was a bit old to have performed these services. Perhaps the records pertain to John, Jr.

John Woodrum sold part of his land to William Maddox on 09 March 1741. The quantity is incompletely described in the record: [Goochland County, Virginia, Deed Book 4, page 39.]

Benja Cocke Thomas Pleasants James Allen John Widrom (Seal)

The deed was acknowledged on 20 July 1742 in Goochland County Court when Mary Woodrum, wife of John Woodrum, relinquished her right of dower in the land. The conveyance probably covered 100 acres of the 400-acre tract because John had over 250 acres remaining at his death, probably 300 acres since he divided it into five 50-acre parcels for five children with the remainder to his widow and, after her death, to a sixth child. One, Susannah, probably the youngest and a minor with no immediate prospects of marriage, received no land. His will was dated 21 April 1760 and proved in Goochland County Court on 17 February 1761. The transcribed court copy of his will spelled the name Woodrum as Widrom throughout, excepting that the first usage was corrected to Woodrum by underlining the "i" and inserting "oo" above it: [Goochland County, Virginia, Will Book 8, page 125.]

Apparently, for some reason, David Woodrum had to duplicate his conveyance of his inherited land to his brother-in-law Benjamin Weaver. On 17 February 1765 he sold to Benjamin Weaver for 15 pounds, a 50-acre tract in St. James Northam Parish, bounded by Benjamin Weaver and William Stamps. David signed the conveyance with his mark and acknowledged it in Goochland Court on 16 April 1765. It was witnessed by David Weaver, William Maddox and Willi Cragwall. On 25 June 1768 David Woodrum made another conveyance to Benjamin Weaver for 15 pounds, identifying the 50 acres as a legacy from his father which was situated on Genito Creek in Goochland County and bounded by the lands of John Crouch, Joseph Watkins, Peter Walker, William Stamps and Benjamin Weaver. It was witnessed by William Pledge, Jr., Nimrod Poindexter, James Bennet and Thomas Pleasants. David signed it with his mark and, although she did not sign the deed, his new wife Susannah acknowledged it with him in Goochland Court on 15 August 1768: [Photocopy in possession of compiler.]

Genito Creek is formed by two forks, the west and east, that rise just south of Highway 250 in Dover District of Goochland County. The forks merge just east of the town of Cardwell, after passing under Route 641. The stream then flows south between Route 670 and routes 641 and 642, under Highway 6 and into the James River between Crozier and Sabot. Beaverdam Creek is west of Genito Creek. Draining a large part of Goochland County, it rises on the Louisa County line in two branches. One, the westerly, begins near Perkinsville. The easterly tributary begins near the juncture of the Louisa, Goochland and Hanover county lines. The two forks join near Highway 250 and continue south until the stream enters James River near the town of State Farm. One of the branches of Beaverdam Creek drains the west side of the ridge upon which Highway 670 is situated. The west fork of Genito Creek drains the east side of that ridge so, perhaps, the Woodrum land was on that ridge. [State of Virginia General Highway maps.]

Somehow, perhaps through a mortgage, John Utley and Alice Woodrum Wade shared ownership of her inherited land, or at least part of it, with Bouth Napier. On 20 January 1779 John Utley Wade, his wife Alice and Bouth Napier, all of Goochland County, sold 40 1/4 acres to Miriam Pleasants of Powhatan County, Virginia, for 100 pounds current money. Known as The Level, the parcel of land was described as being part of a larger tract once possessed by John Woodrum and bequeathed by him to his daughter Alice in his will dated 17 February 1761. The piece of land adjoined Woodrum's spring and was on the old road next to lands of William Moore, Peter Walker and William Stamps. The three grantors signed the deed with marks. James Pleasants, John Cheadle and Thomas Royster witnessed the signing of John Utley and Alice Wade. Bouth Napier signed in the presence of Turner Clerk, John Dowdy, William Sanders and Rene Napier. John Utley Wade who married Alice Woodrum was the illegitimate son of Angelica Wade by John Utley III. [Goochland County, Virginia, Order Book 4, pages 452, 527.] John Utley Wade and Alice Woodrum moved to Franklin County, Virginia, about 1788, after their son Castleton Wade married Judith Chancellor in Goochland County in 1787 and before their daughter Susannah Wade married John Hale in Franklin County in 1789. A map of early settlers in Franklin County shows John Utley Wade near the Pigg River Church in 1796, north of Turner Creek on the south prong of Pigg River. [A Settlement Map of Franklin County, Virginia, Gertrude Mann, historian and researcher, J. R. Hildebrand, cartographer, and George A. Kegley, researcher, The Franklin County Historical Society, Rocky Mount, VA, 1976.] After the death of John Utley Wade in Franklin County in 1798, [Photocopy of will and inventory in possession of compiler.] Alice Woodrum Wade married (2) Owen Thomas Ruble, who died between 06 March 1824, when he wrote his will, and before 06 December 1824, when it was proved. [Franklin County, Virginia, Will Book 2, pages 619-620.] This will indicates that

Alice Woodrum Wade Ruble died after 06 March 1824.

John Snead and Sarah Woodrum also may have moved to Franklin County, Virginia. John Snead appears on the map of early settlers as a resident in 1787. He lived between Beards Creek and Butter Run, near where the streams enter Smith (Irvine) River below Blue Falls (Angelica Falls).

As with David Woodrum, there seems to be another duplicate deed of sale of land, bequeathed by John Woodrum to his children, which is not explained by the conveyance. On 10 October 1791 William Woodrum and his wife Elizabeth of Goochland County sold to Joseph Watkins of the same place, for 35 pounds, 60 acres of land situated on the branches of Beaverdam Creek that was part of a larger tract granted to John Woodrum, Sr. The parcel was adjacent to lands of Peter Walker and Joseph Watkins and was bounded by a path, a road and a branch of Beaverdam Creek. William Woodrum signed the deed by mark and acknowledged it in Goochland Court on 20 February 1792. His wife Elizabeth did not sign nor acknowledge the deed: [Photocopy in possession of compiler.]

This Indenture made this tenth Day of October in the year of our Lord one thousand Seven Hundred and Ninety one Between William Woodram and Elizabeth his Wife of the County of Goochland of the one part and Joseph Watkins of the same County of the other part witnesseth that ... in Consideration of the sum of thirty five pounds Current money of Virginia ... have ... sold ... to Joseph Watkins ... a parcel of Land Situate in the County of Goochland on the Branches of Beaverdam Creek Containing Sixty Acres ... and a part of a Larger tract of Land granted to John Woodram the elder by patent bearing date (blank) and Bounded as followeth Begining at Peter Walkers Corner pine Standing in Joseph Watkins Line thence with the said Walkers Lines ... to a Large Corner White Oak Standing by a path thence Extending along the same ... to a White Oak on the North side of the aforesaid path thence ... to a Corner Spanish Oak on a Road thence along the same ... to a Corner Hickory being the said Walkers and James (illegible) Decd. Corner thence along the Lines of the said (illegible) ... to a Corner Spanish Oak in a Bottom near an old Road thence ... to a Branch of the three Spring Run being a Branch of Beaverdam Creek thence ... down the Branch as it Meanders ... to a Corner Oak and Dogwood on William (illegible) Line about two poles from a Large Rock thence on the said (illegible) Lines ... to three Red Oaks in Joseph Watkins Line ... to the Begining ... In witness whereof the said William & Elizabeth hath hereunto set their hands and Seals the day and year above written

The identification in this deed of a wife named Elizabeth indicates that Martha Moore Woodrum, the first wife of William Woodrum, died before this conveyance was made and that he had taken a second wife named Elizabeth. She apparently was Elizabeth Walker who married William Woodrum on 07 March 1786 in Goochland County: [Marriages of Goochland County, Virginia, 1733-1815, Kathleen Booth Williams, Alexandria, VA, 1960, reprinted Genealogical Publishing Company, Baltimore, 1979.]

William Woodrum and Elizabeth Walker were married 07 March 1786 with Isham Clarke as security

John Woodrum and Elvira Watkins were married 02 January 1806, with consent of John Childers & Lucy Woodrum a son named James born Jul: 16 1773.

Baptized Aug: 22 1773.

The Reverend Douglas performed the following marriages, recording the name of the above John Childers as Childres:

Lucy Woodrum & Jo: Childres, both in Goochland Jan 14 1772

Susannah Woodrum & Rob: Smith both in Louisa Jul: 8 1780

Will: Woodrum & Aggie Webster, both of Goochland 1782, Dec: 16

Douglas conducted the following funerals:

Jan 13 1775 John Woodrums child fun: Sermon on Job 21.23-26.

--- 4 1775 John Woodrums fun: Sermon on Job 30.23.

Jan 13 1775 Woodrums childs fun: Goochland.

Nov 4 1775 Molly Woodrums fun: Goochland.

These appear to be duplicate entries, reflecting a sermon at the funeral services at home or at the church and the burial service at the cemetery. The entry "John Woodrums fun:" probably should have been "John Woodrums wives fun:" and coupled with the "Molly Woodrums fun:" entry. Molly Woodrum could have been Mary Baze (Bays) who married John Woodrum, Jr.

Susannah Barnett (Barnet) who married David Woodrum may have been a daughter of either Richard Barnett or Edward Barnett, both of whom witnessed the will of Richard Wade in Goochland County in 1755.

William Woodrum paid one poll tax in Buckingham County, Virginia, in 1782. [Virginia Tax Payers, 1782-87, Augusta B. Fothergill and John Mark Naugle, Richmond, 1940, reprinted Genealogical Publishing Company, Baltimore, 1978.]

Lucy Woodrum, who married John Childres (Childress, Childers) in 1772, probably was born about 1753. She may have been a daughter of William Woodrum and Mary Moore, whose birth was not recorded. William and Mary had to have been married by 1755 to give birth to their son John in 1756. Perhaps they were married earlier. Born in 1728, William certainly may have married as early as 1750.

An unverified record in the archives of the Latter Day Saints states that William and Mary also two sons, James B. Woodrum and Obediah Woodrum. James B. Woodrum left Goochland County after the Revolutionary War with his brother William Woodrum, Jr. and moved to Lincoln County, Kentucky, where they married sisters. William, Jr. married Patsey Jackson in 1796 and James married Annie Jackson in 1799. Obediah Woodrum was born about 1770 and married Polly Bradbury Wilson on 29 Januray 1810 in Tennessee [E-mail data, Virginia Gillespie and John Dumont <Vgillespie@aol.com>, 12 Sep 1998; data of John Dumont, PO Box 511, Peterstown, WV, 24963, from <SandraG627@aol.com>, 06 Sep 1998.]

Richard and Archibald Woodrum moved to Monroe County, Virginia, before 1800. [Data of Virginia Gillespie, from <SandraG627@aol.com>.] Monroe County was erected from Greenbrier County in 1799. This area became West Virginia.

Richard Woodrum and Rhoda Bird had a son Bird Woodrum, who married Louisa V. Vass in Monroe County, Virginia, and had Victoria Catherine Woodrum who married James Harding Ullman. James married Emma Dunlap and their son was John William Ullman who married Anna Lela King. John Ullman and Anna were the parents of Walter Maynard Ullman (b. 03 Jul 1914 Muncie, Indiana) who married Lela Alberta Perkins (b. 14 Oct 1916 Randolph County, Indiana). They had Walter Lee Ullman (former Air Force pilot and currently employed by Boeing), was born 02 Sep 1944 in Muncie, Indiana, and married Virginia Coop, a native of Cumberland County, Kentucky. They had a son Scott Andrew Ullman (graduate of Univ of Texas -also 6 years in US Navy), who was born on 02 Mar 1968, and a daughter Anna Christine Ullman, who was born on 11 Jan 1972 and graduated with honors from Ferrum College in Roanoke, Virginia.
